Very special bridge holidays

The Rectory Hotel

This Georgian Rectory dates back to 1780 and sits in two acres of gardens, with the church tower peeping up above magnificent trees. Set in the pretty Wiltshire village of Crudwell, the hotel underwent a huge 6-month renovation in early 2017, transforming it into an elegant and peaceful rural retreat. Step inside and it's all deep velvet sofas, modern art, vintage maps and cosy window seats. With two comfortable sitting rooms with roaring log fires and Bridge in the new glass house, we are sure you will love it as much as we do.

We have already had many wonderful bridge breaks at The Rectory and it is now a firm favourite. Guests love the friendly hotel ambience and lovely food, making a stay feel like a country house party.

Delicious food

Tom Conway, who was Head Chef at the Rectory's sister property, the Potting Shed, has moved over to the Rectory to produce food that is traditional yet modern, as well as unpretentiously presented with emphasis on fresh, seasonal produce. The breakfasts are an absolute treat as well, with a huge choice from the buffet and a range of delicious hot breakfasts.

Accommodation

The hotel has 18 simply but beautifully furnished bedrooms – 15 in the main house on the first and second floors and 3 in a separate cottage; all with king or super-king beds with goose down bedding, crisp cotton sheets and fluffy towels. Bedrooms on the first floor are slightly grander than the top floor but all have been thoughtfully designed and carefully decorated. They all have en-suite bathrooms; some with baths, some with showers and some with both and all come with locally made, Bramley products. Six of the rooms have free-standing baths in the bedrooms, all with a separate shower in the bathroom. The bedrooms are categorised according to their size: small, medium and big. Please note that there is no lift and beds in the main house cannot be twinned. Bridge with Zeb & Claudia

Zeb Stocken has many years experience of teaching and hosting bridge events, and whether you come as a group, in a pair or on your own, you can be certain of an instructive and enjoyable game adapted to your level.

Claudia – Zeb's sister – will be on hand to ensure the smooth running of your holiday and, as a keen and experienced bridge player herself, she will also be supervising bridge sessions. The bridge programme will be a mixture of teaching, supervised play and some duplicate – all played in a fun and friendly environment. The tuition sessions will use CompassCards (set deals) and a fun topic tailored to the group.

The other sessions will be supervised play or some form of duplicate or teams with prizes at the end of the stay. All bridge sessions are optional and open to all standards of play although we can only accommodate complete beginners if booked as a group of four. Non-bridge playing partners are of course welcome.

It is important to stress that our holidays are not aimed at the type of player who likes a serious 24-board duplicate every night. Our ethos is that bridge should be a friendly and social game where you can meet like-minded people, and our holidays reflect that. No partner is needed on a StockenBridge holiday.
